Policing at UC San Diego

Areas of interest to the CSSAC

- Psychological Emergency Response Team (PERT)

- Transformational Policing Initiative

- The future of policing at UC San Diego

Psychological Emergency Response Team (PERT)

- PERT seeks to de-escalate a mental health emergency and, when possible, redirect the individual to mental health services instead of hospitalization or incarceration. (Modeled after San Diego County PERT)

- PERT clinicians create a holistic and informed response, alongside UC San Diego Police Officers, to mental health-related calls across our campus community.

- Current proposal to fund two clinicians who will respond with trained UCPD officers.

  - Implicit bias training

  - Conflict resolution skills

  - Building trust and community

Looking to the Future

- How will UC policing change with PERT, transformational policing, and UCOP policies?

- What will the post COVID-19 campus and workspace look like?

- How will we address campus physical security issues?

- How do we move forward with new safety initiatives, including the youth protection program – Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act (CANRA)?

Questions from Members – Open Discussion

- How does the Chancellor envision the CSSAC, and how can it be an asset to the campus?

- How can the CSSAC be more preemptive rather than reactive, e.g., how can we be more involved in campuswide decision making?

- How will the Campus Safety Task Group (CSTG) differ from the CSSAC? How can they support each other?

THANK YOU!
